Succession Timeline

The Candidates

These three couples have offered themselves for selection:

Baroness Agnes Graye and Lady Elena di Luciano de Medici (Robyn and Niamh Winters).

The Honourable Lady Aveline Goupil and Herrin Chunegund Screivogelin (Sandra Wheeler and Joanna Squires)

The Honourable Lord Richard d'Allier and The Honourable Lady Ginevra Isabella di Serafino Visconti (Richard Goodwin and Elizabeth Kent)

Letter of Intent from Lady Agnes and Lady Elena

Unto their Excellencies, Peers, Lords and Ladies of Southron Gaard, do we send greetings.

We, Agnes Graye and Elena di Luciano de Medici ask to be considered as candidates for the stewardship of this fair Barony, and to serve as the 6th Baronial representatives to the Crown of Lochac.

We have been a part of Southron Gaard for 15 and 6 years respectively, and during that time we have supported and promoted this barony through diverse action. We have run several events and aided in the running of many more. We have held several offices over the years to help enable this Barony to function through both peaceful and trying times.

Baroness Agnes has been a fixture for all of her 15 years as both a tireless worker (and more recently a Proprietor) of the Mangy Mongol coffee house, as well as acting as a Lady in Waiting for both our current Baroness as well as to several of our recent Majesties. Her keen interest in a range of the Arts and Sciences, from costuming, weaving and the study of medieval medicine has provided this Barony with a capable and enthusiastic officer, and previous Baronial A&S champion.

Lady Elena is a participant in the noble art of defence, is an authorised marshal of the same and is working toward the same role in both Heavy combat and soon on the Archery field. She has been recognised locally for her services to the Marshalate, has held office in these areas as well, and has also served as Baronial champion in the art of Fencing.

Between us, we believe we hold many of the skills advantageous to acting as Baroness and Baroness (hopefully Lochac's first). Agnes is of a creative bent across many disciplines, and has extensive skills in areas of planning, organisation, and has a keen eye for detail. Elena finds her forte in public relations, communication, crisis management (and in managing Agnes) We believe, like those before us, that pagentry is an important part of the Society and wish to promote it wherever possible. Having said that, we also believe that we do this for fun and with a desire to make each 'shining moment' one you remember for the right reasons.

If selected, we intend to keep a strong internal Baronial focus. Due the Earthquakes, the last 5 years have been trying and painful for many of the populace, in that as with all natural disasters, people withdraw and focus on what is important to them and their family. We have noted this and wish to work to foster communication, participation and retention. Communication, by making ourselves accessible to all members of the populace, with a view to hosting regular open nights for the populace to visit and speak on their current plans and activities. Participation: We wish to support the populace and provide them with a safe, interesting and welcoming environment to continue to come back to, and encourage and reward their service and commitment. Retention in that as with the above, we need to welcome newcomers and help them find both their feet and their passion so that they may stay and add to this Barony and Kingdom.

Yours in service to the dream,

Baroness Agnes Graye and Lady Elena di Luciano de Medici

Letter of Intent from Lady Aveline and Herrin Chunegund

Unto Their Royal Majesties Steffan and Branwen, Baronial Seneschal The Honourable Lord Richard d'Allier, Their Excellencies Baron Oswyn Carolus and Baroness Isabel Maria del Aguila, and also unto the populace of Southron Gaard, does the Honourable Lady Aveline Goupil and Herrin Chunegund Screivogelin send humble greetings.

This missive shall serve as our honest intention to put ourselves forward for consideration as the next Baronesses of Southron Gaard. We have deliberated extensively regarding what we, as individuals, could bring to this partnership and the Barony and concluded that the combination of our skills, experiences, and many enthusiasms could be aptly employed in serving Southron Gaard in this fashion.

We would like to see our Barony rediscover the joy that was once felt in 'the Dream', to recall what it is to have a variety of events and activities to participate in, to engage in pomp and circumstance at times, or to delve into the rich living history and educational opportunities that are increasingly available, to experience afresh how the SCA looks to an enthusiastic newcomer, to recall what it is to simply play and have fun with friends and family, to not feel that they must do a task, because there is no one else with the experience or will to take it on.

Looking around at the Barony, the SCA, and indeed amongst many volunteer run hobbies, there is a theme that arises again and again. Our most committed membership is aging, other members are drifting away or left feeling disenfranchised, and there are insufficient newcomers, younger people or families taking up the pastimes. We would endeavour to turn this around by providing an atmosphere of welcome and acceptance, a largely relaxed environment, that will still provide a sense of pageantry and inspiration when the occasion calls for it. By working to support those members who wish to break into positions of responsibility in the Barony, but perhaps don't quite have the confidence or knowledge of how to do so, we hope to increase the potential pool of stewards, cooks, and officers and with this, a flow of fresh ideas and enthusiasm that does so much to increase the enjoyment of all.

We would also encourage and support the formation of groups outside of the heartland of the Barony, and having one each of the baronial pair in Christchurch and Dunedin will help to ensure a more even voice and understanding throughout the Barony. Southron Gaard is quite large in geographic area and experiencing an increasing volume of its paid membership outside of the founding city.

Good Lords, Ladies, and gentles. We hope and pray that you will consider us as worthy heirs to Baron Oswyn and Baroness Isabel Maria, to represent and commend you unto the Crown of Lochac, to pass on the words of the Crown to you, to allow us the privilege and honour of serving you, and, one day, to pass on a stronger and more vibrant Barony in our turn.

En Service, The Honourable Lady Aveline Goupil

im dienat, Herrin Chunegund Screivogelin

THL Aveline has been participating in the SCA for six years, more or less diving straight into the deep end of the millers pond by undertaking officer positions, starting as the Seneschal of the College of St Kessog, then moving to a Baronial officer position as Chronicler, where she was privileged to win the William Blackfox award for Best Newsletter in the Known World (2012). Upon completion of her term as Chronicler, she served as the Kingdom Deputy Exchequer, said role finishing early in 2015. Currently, Aveline is Tour d'Or Herald for Southron Gaard and protégé to Master Bartholomew Baskin.

Event stewarding is a strong area of expertise for Aveline, who has stewarded five good sized events (with the 6th upcoming this October) and a few minor events during her time. Along with this, she was the Meal Plan Coordinator for Canterbury Faire three years running. Over the last few years she has begun to share the lessons learnt in these various roles with others, by teaching classes at collegiums, Stuff Nights, and Faire; writing articles for From the Tower, and being available as a mentoring resource to new stewards, feast cooks and in other capacities.

Aveline also enjoys a wide range of the activities of the SCA, participating in many different aspects of A&S, including but not restricted to cooking, brewing, embroidery and leatherwork; is an authorised heavy fighter, keen (if not very good) archer, and is working on her rapier authorisation and heavy marshal authorisations. As a former Lady in Waiting to her Excellency Baroness Isabel Maria, and current Herald, Aveline has experience with the requirements of running Courts and this aspect of the Society.

Herrin Chunegund Screivogelin came to Southron Gaard in 2008. I was dazzled by the elegance of court, the intricacies of dance, and the general community spirit that pervades this land. After taking lessons in both dance and Arabic drumming, I have sought to hand these skills on to any gentle who is willing. To that end, I have taught classes at collegia and Canterbury Faire, stewarded a hafla, and run balls during other events. I have a habit of volunteering for small services within an event rather than the running of an entire event itself. In 2011, I became the Chatelaine, and through this office I instigated the Canterbury Faire Newcomer Tours, and organised the labelling of all the loaner garb. For this last, I received a Tour d'Or. I see the SCA as something that one can spend their life doing, and so pace myself accordingly. In the years since being Chatelaine, I have been working on my persona, increasing my general knowledge of history, and working on Voice Heraldry. I am now well rested from the previous rigors of office and ready to take on a new long-term challenge.

Letter of Intent from THL Ginevra and THL Richard

Unto Your Royal Majesties, King Steffan and Queen Branwen, and the Populace of Southron Gaard do THL Ginevra Isabella di Serafino Visconti and THL Richard d'Allier send greetings.

From Ginevra:

I think of Canterbury Faire 2005 as my first SCA event, though I had attended a few events before that with flatmates. I remember one morning in particular, sitting at the Mong and watching the sun burning the mist off the field, chatting to people who I'd never met before, all engaged in different tasks and feeling a sense of home and community and that has stayed with me. I later attended my first court, and met the Queen, and had a delicious feast, but that quiet morning was when I first felt I belonged here.

I've stewarded a number of events since then, including Canterbury Faires, a Yule, and this year's BA. I've also worked as a sub-steward several times. I've greatly enjoyed the chance to work with a wide number of people in these roles, and to learn from them about themselves, their other SCAdian interests, how they see the SCA, and also about different approaches to meeting the challenges that inevitably arise with event planning.

I've held a number of offices, including Reeve and Rapier Marshal. With the help of Mistress Katherine Kerr, who was Baroness at the time, I started the annual Baroness' Rapier Tournament, as a way of both raising the profile of rapier, but also encouraging greater pageantry, and more interesting deaths, by giving all the landed Baroness' in attendance a chance to award the person they found most inspiring, for whatever reason, as well as having a prize for the winner. I've also been deputy for a number of offices, so am aware of the different challenges in each role, as well as the rewards they can offer. I've been privileged to serve on a number of Courts, and greatly enjoyed the chance to see the Barony from a different angle, and meet with people who I may not otherwise have come into contact with.

I've been honoured with several awards for courtesy, service, and arts and sciences. The ones I value most are my Rowan, and Freedom of the City of Ildhafn, because they represent to me the importance of respect and courtesy and the relationships that I've been able to develop and maintain with people throughout the Crescent Isles.

From Richard:

My first SCA event was the College of Reannag Fhara's revel on the evening before Baronial Investiture in 1996, which means I've been part of the SCA for just under 20 years. I still remember these two events, particularly Sir Callum's "broccoli" introduction, a tourney at Abberley Park boasting some of the great Knights of the kingdom, the thunderous applause in the Great Hall when Sir Callum was made a Court Baron, the investiture feast of four humors (melancholy, cholera, phlegm and blood - it tasted much better than the advertising made out) and particularly the wondrous spectacle of a Royal Court and the joy of individuals and pride of the group as awards were presented and efforts and talent were recognised.

It's safe to say that this had me hooked and since then I've endeavoured to emulate those that inspired and awed me that day, and indeed since.

As a member of the SCA, I have benefited mightily from the work of others who have given their time to run the group, put on events, or learned a craft or skill and passed that on to others. All of these efforts are required to make the SCA what it is. I have always felt a duty to reciprocate these efforts and have therefore held a number of offices for both the College and Barony, including College and Baronial Reeve (twice), College and Baronial Marshal, College Herald, and College and Baronial Seneschal. Particularly in the last 4-and-a-bit years I've been the Baronial Reeve and Seneschal, with a short break in between.

As a result of holding these offices I've gained an appreciation of how much work is required to keep the group running, how rewarding the jobs can be, and how great it feels when someone finally takes over.

On top of being an officer I've stewarded many events, including a couple of feasts, Midwinter and Easter Encampments, a Night of Champions (post CF wind-down revel for those that still had any energy left back in those days), a College Anniversary, a couple of St Jude's Encampments, numerous tourneys, a couple of Collegia, and Canterbury Faires 2003, 2005 and 2015. I also cooked the feast for a Baronial Anniversary which led me to a much greater appreciation of our cooks and kitchen hands. If you thought the idea of booking a hall and making sure there was enough bog-roll for the event was daunting, try nightmares about not causing mass food poisoning.

I've been privileged to participate in a large number of demonstrations. I particularly remember a series of dances we practiced and performed for the Festival of Dance in 1998 and would love to see dancing become a regular feature at events again. I've promoted the SCA at A&P shows and various displays and participated in a large number of demonstrations to school groups.

Throughout my work for the group I've never been one to shy away from the tough jobs or not ask the hard questions. Where I've seen something that didn't seem right to me I've said so. In many cases when people have made good arguments I've been persuaded from my original opinion to another, and in some I've stood firm because I felt my reasons were well-founded. A person must be honest with themselves if they ever hope to be honest with others.

I've also found it important to occasionally break the mould and try new things. When I originally took up archery there were no practices, so I started them on Holmwood Green at the University. I organised monthly combat archery practices for a time as well. When it became clear that we were out-growing the Canterbury Faire site at Journey's End, I found the new venue at Waipara – a move which initially encountered some resistance and then overwhelming approval when people found their tent pegs no longer needed to be $\frac{3}{4}$ " thick and driven in by sledgehammers. Not to mention being able to put tents up in the shade. More recently as Seneschal I implemented online council meetings to allow those that might not be able to make it in person, particularly those in Wildmoor to participate. I also pushed for weekly practices to be combined, in an effort to allow people to get involved with a wider range of activities and provide a venue for wider socialisation particularly for newcomers. I realise that not all changes suit all people but on the whole I think these have been beneficial and were always intended to bring more people together to enjoy the Society.

I've been honoured to receive several awards, for armoured combat, archery and service. I was particularly honoured to receive a Gauntlet of Caid, and have strived to live up to that on the tourney field ever since. The award I prize most though is the Coeur Loyale, as it represents to me the satisfaction one feels for a job well done and the appreciation we feel for the efforts others make which directly impact upon the game for our immediate group. I am squired to Sir Callum McLeod whom I regard as an exemplar of chivalry and honour. Recently I have been focussing on woodwork as a means of better furnishing my encampment.

From us both:

We believe we would work well together on your behalf for a number of reasons. Between us we are interested in or have been involved in a wide range of activities giving us personal insight into the challenges and rewards such activities entail. We also have strengths in different areas, Richard particularly in organisation and Ginevra in developing social bonds and understanding. Having worked together closely for several years as officers and known each other as friends for much longer we know we communicate well and can bring different points of view to a conversation. We notice and appreciate different things, which is important when recognising the different contributions everyone makes to the Society.

Should we be selected to be Baron and Baroness, we make the following pledges:

We would strive to make newcomers feel welcome and show them what a great bunch of people there are in the Barony, so that they might join us, and be filled with the same passion for learning about the Middle Ages as we are.

We would strive to recognise the contributions of everyone, ensure that they feel appreciated for their efforts and that the Crown is aware of the enrichment they bring to the Kingdom. As part of this we hope to make everybody see that the group is more than the sum of its parts, and for the Dream to be realised it takes many diverse efforts in combination.

Lastly we would strive to do for others what those people that organised and attended our first events did for us; to create those “magic moments” – times when just for a second or a few minutes we look around and think to ourselves “yes, this could be the Middle Ages”, moments that make all of our efforts worthwhile, the lively fluttering of pennants in the breeze, a cheer for a well-struck blow on the field, the satisfaction of a perfectly executed dance, the rich smell of a feast, the smile of a newcomer sporting the first piece of garb they made for themselves, or the simple pleasure of rowdy songs around a campfire. These are the moments we cherish and if you choose us to be your Baron and Baroness, these are the moments we will strive to create.
